

Washington, D. C.
GERMAN UNDERGROUND
SEETHES

According to uncensored dispatches now reaching Washington, active guerrilla warfare is flaring up on a mounting scale behind the German lines.

First real indication of an active Fifth column in Germany came recently with accurate reports of pitched battles inside Berlin, Breslau and Bremen. This new guerrilla warfare differs from that of partisan units inside France, Yugoslavia and Greece in that few of the guerrilla troops are Germans. The bulk are Frenchmen and Russians who were captured earlier in the war and have been used as slave labor in the reich.

All of these workers were carefully guarded by Himmler until recently. Most lived in big cities and worked in large industrial plants. In Berlin for example, hundreds of thousands of slave laborers have been housed in fenced off temporary barracks in the heart of the city.

But recent powerful allied air raids have created such chaos that thousands of foreign workers escaped from their enclosures and have hidden in the bomb ruins.

At night, the guerrillas prowl the streets, capture Nazi sentries, steal food and ammunition, commit extensive sabotage. They have been joined by some German army deserters, afraid to return to the front, advises say.

Once Berlin is taken it is expected that the several million slave laborers will flare into such revolt that Germany—except in the mountainous south—will cave like an egg-shell.

OVER-AGE SERVICEMEN

Greatest hardship on men in the army probably is with enlisted men over 38, now too old to become officers but who can't resign as officers can.

Typical case of how this hardship works is that of Cpl. Alexander C. Sioris, age 45, who has served in the army three years, most of the time overseas. Corporal Sioris is not only a college graduate, but holds a doctor's degree. Twice he was recommended for officers' training school, but each time his unit moved overseas and he had to sail with his unit. Now he is too old to be commissioned, too old for combat, yet under present army rules must be kept on—doing menial jobs.

There are thousands of similar cases. What the army needs is a good overhauling of its manpower, especially older men who have been in the army a long time.

NEW MANPOWER PROGRAM

War Manpower Commission Director Paul McNutt may put a new program into effect very soon in all light labor areas. This would limit employers in non-essential or less essential industries to a certain percentage of the number of workers they employed last year. This ceiling-employee program has already been tried out in Chicago and proven successful.

Chicago employers in non-essential and less essential industries will be required to cut the number of employees on the payroll 10 per cent by March 15.

SECRET RED WEAPONS

The Russians are way ahead of both the United States and Great Britain in the use of rocket guns, have employed them with devastating effect in the lightning drive through Poland, and particularly in the offensive against the Nazis in East Prussia.

One new and very important weapon which Stalin unveiled in the new drive is the 100-ton tank named after himself. The Stalin tank is superior to the German royal tiger tank, and our own Sherman heavy tank. It carries a 4.8-inch gun as against the 3-inch gun carried on our Sherman. So long as the ground remains hard, the Stalin tank is capable of resisting any but the largest point-blank German shells. On the other hand, the mobile gun on the Stalin tank can pierce most of the German secondary fortifications so far encountered by the Russians, it is said.

WAR NOTES

German are already trying to escape from the threatened Nazi homeland. Reports from Lisbon, Madrid, Stockholm and Berne reveal hundreds of Germans trying to crash the frontier to get out of Germany before the Allies take over.

FDR still hasn't decided who he will name as high commissioner of the Philippines. WMC Director Paul McNutt and Supreme Court Justice Frank Murphy both are ready to go. If Murphy takes it, Roosevelt will nominate Judge Sam Rosenman to the Supreme court.

A significant new Slav treaty is now being negotiated. It will bind together the Czechoslovak government and the Lublin-Polish government in the first step toward the creation of an eastern European Slavic alliance—naturally with Moscow's blessing.

Mrs. Jurras Elected Vice-President of Girls Council

Mrs. Anthony Jurras was installed as vice-president of the Santa Clara County Camp Fire Girls Council at a dinner meeting held on Wednesday evening, Feb. 21, at the Hotel De Anza.

Mrs. Jurras represents Campbell on the council and succeeds Dr. Lydia Shaughnessy, public health physician for San Jose City school and pediatrician for Campbell and Los Gatos Well-Baby clinics. Miss Maude Empey, prominent San Jose club woman, is the new president who follows in office Mrs. Lucille Snyder, principal of Peter Burnett Junior High school. Mrs. Sanborn Young of Los Gatos is honorary president of the council.

Miss Nora Garvin, national field director for Camp Fire Girls in this district, was honor guest and principal speaker at the annual birthday party of the Santa Clara County Guardians association. The meeting was held at the home of J. C. Goldeen, the Alameda, with Miss Florian Goldeen acting as hostess.

Miss Garvin told of recent developments in the Camp Fire program and outlined plans for the future. She asked for more active participation by sponsors and said that members of sponsoring committees should visit group meetings frequently and become personally acquainted with each girl.

Following the meeting, a cleverly decorated birthday cake was served while Miss Goldeen and Ralph Goldeen entertained the group with numbers on two pianos.

Those attending from Campbell were Mrs. Don Sevrens, Mrs. Emily Roberts, Mrs. Ione Arthur and Miss Helen Stray.

The Campbell Camp Fire Girls Council met Wednesday afternoon, Feb. 21 in the Camp Fire room at the Youth Center. The budget for the ensuing year was formulated and plans were discussed for Church Sunday, March 18. The local service will be held at the Methodist church and Mrs. Charlotte Bronson will be in charge of arrangements.

Council members present at the afternoon's meeting were Mrs. F. F. Grattan, Mrs. Milton Robertson, Mrs. Ione Arthur, Mrs. Emily Roberts, Mrs. Forest Fossum, Mrs. Charlotte Bronson and Miss Helen Stray.

Dr. W. H. Crothers Laid to Rest At Oak Hill Friday

Following funeral rites conducted Friday afternoon from the Amos Williams company chapel, the body of Dr. William H. Crothers, who passed away February 21, in Saratoga, was laid to rest in Oak Hill Memorial park.

William Crothers was born in Belfast Ireland 79 years ago but had lived most of his life in this country.

He was a member of the first graduation class of Stanford University in 1892, continuing his studies for a doctor of medicine degree at Cooper Medical college from which he graduated in 1895. He did more advance work in the Eastern states and also in Berlin before practicing in San Francisco.

Retiring from medical practice 31 years ago, Dr. Crothers brought his family to Campbell and has resided here since, on an orchard on Hamilton avenue.

He leaves his widow, Blanche, and two children, Clifton Crothers and Mrs. Muriel C. Lucas, and three brothers, Thomas G., George E., and Wesley E. Crothers.

McVea Reported In South Pacific

Seaman 1/c Irvin McVea, 19, is now serving as a radio man aboard a troop transport somewhere in the South Pacific following his recent graduation from radio school at Farragut, Idaho.

McVea entered the Navy on Jan. 10, 1944. A student of Campbell high school, he is the son of Mrs. Jennie McVea of Santa Clara-Los Gatos road and the brother of Norman McVea of Bremerton, Wash., Raymond McVea of Campbell and Mrs. Mildred Jancik and Mrs. Hazel McKenzie of Oakland.

Marine Captain Nelson V. Clement, son of Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Clement of North Central avenue, returned recently from 24 months in the South Pacific and was home on a 30-day leave before reporting to the Marine Base near Santa Ana for reassignment.

Capt. Clement is a pilot in the Marine Air Corps and has participated in three major battles, during which he was awarded a presidential citation and the Air Medal.

Arriving home the same day was Pvt. Garland Pears, Clement's brother-in-law, who was with the coast artillery in Iceland and is now at Fort Bragg, N. C., following a 21-day furlough spent with his wife and 21-month old son, Nelson, whom he had never seen.

Students Hold Forum At Kiwanis Meeting

The Campbell Kiwanis club was favored with a novel program Tuesday when five students of the Campbell high school conducted a forum on the subject "What we as youth can do to help our community."

Beverly Suess was leader of the group and the other members of the panel with their branch of the discussion were Nora Lynch whose subject was "Health and Recreation;" Alvin Bonds, "War Services;" Royce Root, "Productive Enterprises;" and Ross Fuller, "The Church."

The material presented and the intelligent questions asked evidenced the careful preparation and training necessary to produce such an interesting and factual discussion.

The youth of our local school are certainly a valuable asset to the community with their war bond drives, farm and factory work, scrap drives, church group activities and many other services. Health studies, sports and physical education are helping build for a better citizenship.

Ralph H. Noddin was chairman.

Several visitors were present as guests and attendance make-ups.

President C. P. Klassen stressed the need for extra giving for the Red Cross drive which opens today.

Red Cross Drive Starts Today

Recently a returned service man spoke to the high school assembly. He was speaking of the work done by the Red Cross overseas, but for their constant efforts he might not be living today.

Iwo Jima has been before us as one of the bloodiest battles yet fought. The Red Cross has turned over its facilities to obtain whole blood to be flown to that area. Daily these planes leave, flying life to many of our men.

There are so many other services being given that it would take too long to list them all. To further this work we will be called upon to contribute to the Red Cross during the next few weeks. Campbell has $6,000 set as the goal this year and all reports indicate it may be topped as our quota was last year.

When your neighbor calls for your contribution, have it ready, thankful you are able to give.

Woman's Club To Have Men's Nite Monday

Members of the Campbell Country Woman's Club are anticipating with much pleasure the opportunity to fete their husbands and friends at the club annual Men's Nite, slated for Monday evening, March 5. With an active committee, ably headed by Mrs. Raymond Bishop, winding up last minute details it is conclusive that the "School Day" theme chosen will meet with the approval of all in attendance.

It has been the good fortune of the committee to secure two of the Campbell Grammar school teachers, and what could be more suitable than teachers for such an evening, to entertain the group following the six-thirty dinner. Those attending are asked to carry out the thought of school days in dressing for the evening and the president, Mrs. Carl Field, has offered prizes for the most interesting school day sweethearts, and school boy and school girl.

The committee: Mrs. Raymond Bishop, Mrs. Paul Becker, Mrs. Milton Robertson, Mrs. J. E. Murdock, Mrs. A. D. Rice, Mrs. Lowell Benson, Mrs. Frank Blair, Mrs. Roy Stoner, Mrs. H. J. Smith, Mrs. Dave Sanders and Mrs. Georgene Kidward, should feel amply repaid for their efforts to make this evening a successful one, judging from the large number of reservations already received for this affair.

The cast is composed of Beverly Suess, Reba Fryer, Alice Olsen, Donna Nichols, Bill Casterson, Marvin McCorkle, Ross Fuller, Dale LaMar, Stanley Goold and Ed Brajenovich, under the direction of Miss Diane Winnia.

Tickets are selling fast to this play and those wishing them should get them immediately as there are not too many now available.

RED CROSS DRIVE

The Red Cross campaign for $200 million opening on March 1, is an opportunity for all Americans to have a part in the great work which this organization is doing for our sons and brothers who are serving in the fight for a better world.

California's quota is slightly over $16 million—a figure which should not only be reached, but surpassed by a wide margin. This will be done if each one of us gives all he can spare, and that's the very least we can do.

As usual, business concerns will give full support to the drive. California retailers will not only make substantial donations, but will further assist through counter cards, window displays and other advertising. This cooperation by the retailers is but one example of the spirit that will help to make the 1945 Red Cross campaign a complete success.

Each dollar we give will help our wounded men in their darkest hours. The Red Cross supplies blood plasma for them and provides recreation during their convalescence. Prisoners of war know the blessing that comes to them in the form of packages from the Red Cross containing food, clothing and medicine. Servicemen also know that the Red Cross will help their families at home if the need arises.

So let us give more money this year and more blood, so that the work of mercy may be speeded. Let us put the drive over the top—and quickly!

150TH ANNIVERSARY

On the occasion of its 150th anniversary, which was reached on February 23, the Navy Supply Corps was engaged in the biggest, most vital, and most difficult job in its long history.

California's interest in Navy supply problems is especially keen since our ports are the "front doors" to the Pacific. The world's largest Coastal Naval Supply Depot is located at Oakland. There, twelve thousand officers, enlisted men and civilians work night and day to keep millions of tons of vital Navy equipment on the move.

Admiral Halsey declared, "The battle must be won on the supply line before we can smash the enemy on the firing line." Navy Supply Corps officers are buying more than 100,000 separate items to cover every conceivable requirement of the men who fight at sea.

So it's "Hats off" to the Navy Supply Corps which is adding another brilliant chapter to its century and a half of outstanding service.

BOOMS AND BOMBS

"A charge of dynamite is under the farm land market, and the fuse is burning." So declared the Chicago Farm Foundation after a study of the Nation's spiraling farm land prices.

In mid-1944, said the Farm Foundation, average farm values for the country as a whole were 42 per cent above the 1935-39 average. The rate of increase now equals the pace during World War I. The number of farms changing hands has reached a record high.

These signs are ominous. We well remember the serious deflation following the final "race through the clouds" of land values in 1919-20.

Some phases of the present situation, however, are favorable. In the past two years the total farm mortgage debt has dropped approximately 14 per cent. In 1918-19 it climbed 30 per cent.

Instead of acquiring more land by going into debt, as many farmers did a quarter century ago, most of them are resisting the temptation to expand and are paying off their existing obligations. In California, the consistent increase in savings deposits reported by the scores of banks indicate that farmers are fortifying themselves against any postwar letdown.

The heavy turnover in farm ownership appears to involve in most instances, speculators looking for quick profits. Let us hope that the conservation of the majority of our farmers will prevent this boom from becoming a bomb.

MACARTHUR'S FUTURE ROLE

General MacArthur has come back to Manila. He has fulfilled his pledge of three years ago. But this should not be the end of the trail for socapable a military man.

There is considerable speculation whether or not he will be given the supreme command of American forces in the final push on Japan. After what the Japanese war lords have seen of him in the past two years, we do not doubt that they would be "velly hoppy" if he is not given the assignment.

Of course, Japan will be beaten eventually even if MacArthur does not command our forces from here on in. But the skill and strategy he has shown in the long march back from "down under" gives conclusive evidence that he is far too valuable to put on the shelf in the Philippines.

Military experts are generally agreed that the real showdown battle with the Nips will not come on their home islands, but in China. We must land sizeable

Kathleen Norris Says:

It's Time for Us to Grow Up!

Bell Syndicate.—WNU Features.

"You make yourself more attractive when you forget that there are other attractive women in the world—all trying to get Roy away from you."

By KATHLEEN NORRIS

MRS. A. is fretting herself sick and spoiling her life because her husband admires a young grass-widow in his office. She says she trusts him and that he is a fine man, but you know what these widows are—and if Roy should go off the track, with a lovely mother like his, a devoted wife, two splendid boys—

Mrs. B. is beside herself because life could be so perfect if only Harold's mother wasn't with them. She's been with them seven years. She's a perfectly darling old woman, she watches the children and does wonders in the kitchen, but, oh dear, there are times when one would like to have the house to oneself—

Mrs. C. worries about money. Where does it go to? Why are the C's, with just one child to worry about, always behindhand with bills, always in debt, always unable to do the pleasant wasteful things that other people seem able to do?

Mrs. D. is sober and silent because of Cass and Jim; Cass wasting his wonderful twenties in the dim, grim Aleutians, Jim now starting his third trip to the dangerous southern seas. She can't lift up her heart, she can't be gay. Their father, as silent and sad as herself, was gassed in the last great war; it would take a series of miracles to bring sunshine to the D. household now.

Mrs. F. worries about her children; she has two girls and a boy. She worries about their eyes, teeth, table manners, clothes, futures. They are normal, attractive children—to everyone but Mother.

Mrs. G.—but why go on? The list is endless. Everyone of us is beset with anxieties and responsibilities, little and big, and when one vanishes another jumps up to take its place.

Unfortunately, some of these, in these sad days, are legitimate troubles. When a beloved son or husband or brother is away in the service our hearts may well be heavy; the only cure for this worry is prayer, and by a divine paradox only prayer will help us to find prayer—so the start on that road is hard.

Put Aside Trifles.

But for the rest, let us learn something, as American women in the most fearful crisis the world has ever known. Let us try to develop character. Let us put aside all the trifles that annoy us, face our problems and solve them, remember that children do grow up; that plain girls and stubborn boys turn into quite attractive grownups, and marry, and start worrying in their turn.

Remember that even if Roy goes pretty far with the grass-widow in the office, he'll not be the first, and your course is just to face the humiliating truth and survive it and grow stronger for it.

Remember that it's a good thing for everyone to have Grandpa or Grandma living in the family. It trains everyone in self-control and good manners, to say nothing of the inestimable value of an assistant cook, always-reliable nurse and general housekeeper in these servant-less times.

And as for money. Well, I can summon up a good deal of respect for almost any type of woman—be she smart or stupid, good or not-so-

FACE THINGS BRAVELY

There are plenty of worries and problems besetting most of us. Many of them are small and passing, but others are real enough. Some of these we can change by vigorous, courageous action, and some will clear up of themselves if we are only patient. Some are concerned about their children; others about debts; still others about philandering husbands. Some are annoyed because their mothers-in-law live with them.

Miss Norris advises everyone to settle whatever difficulties they can. For the rest of our troubles, there is nothing to do but to face them with as much bravery and resignation as possible. For those who have loved ones in battle zones, there is no solace but prayer.

But in the future, as well as the present, warns Miss Norris, women will need to be strong, able to cope with the many grave issues that the postwar world will bring. Right now is the time to develop fortitude.

good, EXCEPT the woman who is always behindhand with her bills and short of money. It doesn't matter whether your income is $1,500 a year or $5,000—if you are slipshod and unsystematic in your handling of it, if you live in a constant state of neglected bills and money shortage, you are destroying every chance you have for happiness in the new postwar world.

End Money Worries. It's no excuse to say that you don't exactly know how much money you'll have, from month to month. In that case reduce your outgo to the minimum income, and save whatever is over. Or, if it is the man of the family who wastes, is extravagant, won't fall in line, then get a job, use your own money, and know where you stand.

These are not days of trifles. The issues that face us are titanic.

What a shattered world can do at a peaceable is an inchoate and far away thing; hundreds of voices will be heard at that table, and they may begin quarreling again—over the peace itself.

But YOUR household may be a little oasis of peace and order; a place of hospitality, happiness, harmony. By making it that you lift just so much of a burden off the great burden of the world. Yet set an example of charity and kindness, when you make an older person an honored member of your family. You relieve your husband of his deepest anxiety when you convince him that you can live happily, without debt. You raise better children when you don't worry about them all the time. You make yourself more attractive when you forget that there are other attractive women in the world—all trying to get Roy away from you.

We're going to need strong, wise women in the postwar world, and children raised in an atmosphere of simplicity, economy, reasonable sacrifice, affection. We're going to need GOODNESS. The more you can assemble under your roof the better for us all.

Furniture Made of Logs

The log tradition is strong in the American heritage—with the pioneers clearing the land for their farms, great presidents being born in log cabins, the industry of logging one of our most picturesque. So furniture made of logs has a symbolic appropriateness—for outdoor use or for game rooms indoors. Use fine logs from that old tree that everybody hated to see taken down—make a table, benches, stools. A good winter's job for the man of the house!

THE BOOK MARK

by marty

"Image of Josephine" by Booth Tarkington.

This author needs no heralding. With such encompassing successes as "Kate Fennigate," "The Magnificent Ambersons," "Monsieur Beauclaire" and a number of others, "Image of Josephine" deserves its niche in the famous Tarkington book shelf.

Let us plunge immediately into the depth of the plot of the story. The heroine, Josephine Oaklin, inherits an influential position on the board of directors of an Art Museum that her Grandfather Oaklin founded. From an influential position to absolute authority, Josephine jumps. It was at the early age of fourteen years that Josephine signed her name to a legal document which started her on her career. This career, at first glance, seems to have reflected the heroine as a person of great beauty, with wealth and an impressive knowledge of all things. Yet in the small midwestern city where her grandfather had been first citizen and leading benefactor, she manages to make herself thoroughly despised.

For Josephine, lonely and spoiled, twists her shining qualities all out of proportion and presents to the world not her true self, but a hard, grating outline. True love was to discover the real girl, but not until her image had made a lot of trouble.

Mr. Tarkington endows his story with the customary grace and subtle humor.

The publishers say that "Image of Josephine" is a worthy addition to the Tarkington library of American classics.

A kind heart is a fountain of gladness, making everything in its vicinity freshen into smiles — Washington Irving.

Harvey Wood Gets Bronze Star

WITH THE 100th DIVISION OF SEVENTH ARMY IN FRANCE—The 100th Division has awarded the Bronze Star to Cpl. Harvey R. Wood, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ray Wood of Rincon avenue, Campbell, in recognition of individual action in the division's fighting on the southern end of the western front. The award was among those made during the past month, signaling bravery and ability in combat.

The award singled out the part this man played in three months of the division's fight through the Vosges mountains and the Alsation-France sectors of the western front.

During the past month, the 100th met the German's counterdrive on the Seventh Army front with such effect that it was commended by Lt. General Jacob L. Devers, Sixth Army group commander.

"Your great achievements," General Devers' commendation read, "forced the enemy to give up the offensive action on your front. Inflicting great losses to strong elements of three division, you have successfully protected an important sector in the Hardt Mountains."

More recently, the 100th entered the push for the most heavily defended portion of the southern Maginot Line at Bitche. In extremely hard fighting against last-ditch German stands, the 100th captured famous Fort Schiosseck near Bitche and had breached the Line prior to the German counter-offensive on the Seventh Army front.

Bronze stars were given to men and officers for heroic achievement in action or for meritorious service.

Speeds Haying

In timing tests of haying on farms last summer, the haying crews using a buckrake put hay in the barn twice as fast on the average as did the crews using hayloader and wagon.

The Campbell F. F. A. Chapter was awarded a check for $37.00 by the Sears Foundation, in recognition of the boys Food for Victory efforts.

Eighteen schools throughout the state were selected on the basis of their contributions with the local school being chosen as one of the five schools in the A group tied for fourth place.

The money awarded must be spent under the guidance of the agricultural teacher to increase the effectiveness of next year's projects.

The Sears Foundation presents a fund of $712.00 for distribution to F. F. A. chapters on the basis of the best food production by enrollment of the percent per boy. Points are given for both live stock and garden products.

The various school chapters are divided into A and B groups according to size. Campbell placed in the A group, and there were first, second and third prizes, and as stated above Campbell was one of five schools in A group tied for fourth place.

The California Polytechnic school at San Luis Obispo is headquarters for F. F. A.'s and the judging is done through that institution.

Mr. and Mrs. S. N. Hedegard returned Saturday from Corpus Christi where they had spent a month to be with their son AOM 2/c Sanford Hedegard who is stationed there as an instructor. Sanford spent many months in the South Pacific before being returned to this country and designated an instructor.

Lt. Bothwell Gets Second Oak Leaf Cluster

AN EIGHTH AIR FORCE LIBERATOR STATION, ENGLAND — First Lieutenant Leroy H. Bothwell, husband of Mrs. Angela Marion Bothwell, Winchester road, Campbell, has been awarded a second Oak Leaf Cluster to the Air Medal, for "meritorious achievement in accomplishing with distinction aerial operational missions over enemy occupied Continental Europe. The courage, coolness and skill displayed by him in the face of determined opposition materially aided in the successful completion of these dangerous missions. His actions reflect great credit upon himself and the Armed Forces of the United States."

A navigator-bombardier of a B-24 Liberator, Lt. Bothwell has participated in bombing missions to Hamm, Cologne, Kiel, Munich, Berlin, and other war production centers of Germany. He is a member of the 446th Bombardment Group commanded by Col. Troy W. Crawford, of El Paso, Texas, which has completed more than 200 missions against enemy targets.

The group has dropped over 12,000 tons of bombs and has flown over 4,500 sorties against the enemy. The same planes which bomb enemy installations have also flown medical and food supplies to the people of France.

Lt. Bothwell attended San Bernardino Junior college. He entered the military service in March 1943. He received his wings at San Marcos, Texas.

Historic Battle

The major naval engagement of Lake Erie during the War of 1812, in which the American fleet under Com. Oliver Hazard Perry decisively defeated the British force, forestalled any cession of territory in the Northwest to Great Britain in the treaty of peace and occasioned several immortal quotations—"We have met the enemy and they are ours." — O. H. Perry, and Capt. James Lawrence's dying admonition—"Don't give up the ship."
